JonesComfort Poured PU

Overview

Molded polyurethane footbeds are the solution when your objective is to maximize comfort. In applications ranging from skater shoes to work boots, Jones & Vining's poured polyurethane footbeds deliver an immediate sensation of comfort at retail and the long lasting durability and compression set performance of molded polyurethane.

JonesComfort poured PU footbeds may be designed with single density material, with firmer elastomeric sections, and laminated with open cell top layers. In collaboration with your design team we can develop unique solutions to meet your brand requirements.
